

Litigation Support Services

Even the best attorneys need a great team of financial experts supporting them in order to succeed. We have the experience, flexibility, and responsiveness to help you and your clients with fraud investigations, forensic accounting, damages calculations, expert testimony, and valuations.

As you support the scales of justice, let us support you.

Experience

The Kraft litigation support team is highly regarded by the accounting and legal community. We are retained by leading local and national law firms and their clients. With extensive experience both behind the scenes and on the witness stand, our senior-level executives lead specialized teams that are well versed in:

- » helping attorneys assess merits of the case and identifying relevant financial considerations
- » assisting counsel in preparing for interrogatories/depositions
- » responding to interrogatories
- » assisting with mediations/negotiations
- » providing expert testimony at depositions, mediations, arbitrations, and trials

With more than 200 team members in the Kraft family, we are available to provide manpower and expertise in financial, business, and technology matters.

Team

Without the burdensome bureaucracy of megafirms, we can often make decisions and respond to client needs faster than our larger counterparts.

Because we have in-house professionals with the necessary skills, experience, and credentials, we have the ability to respond quickly, begin work promptly, and wrap up engagements on time.

Our team members hold a variety of relevant credentials, including:

- » Certified Public Accountant
- » Master Analyst of Financial Forensics
- » Certified Valuation Analyst
- » Accredited in Business Valuation
- » Certified in Financial Forensics
- » Certified Licensing Professional
- » Juris Doctorate
- » Master of Business Administration

“Collectively, members of our team have been retained as experts in hundreds of litigation matters. We have provided testimony at depositions, mediations, arbitrations and in state and federal courts for bench trials and jury trials. Since we also help clients with non-litigation advisory services, we bring balanced, real-world perspectives to our litigation work, particularly with disputes involving business transactions.”
